It's time to share all about your rawness and how your rawness loves to awaken and up level so that you can break through and liberate. Welcome to Star powered astrology for changemakers. I have Leslie Tagorda Your guide, a Hawaii born Filipino Jewish astrologer who loves navigating visionaries like you could the spiritual journey of your work so that you can be inspired to live by your chart and become the luminary leader you are born to be. Here luminary, Leslie Tagorda here again with another episode in my planetary process series exploring Uranus. Uranus a one of our slow moving generational planets is rules the process to awaken or break through meaning that awakening parts really up level and to liberate and that idea of break through this like those glass ceilings that we are society put on top of us whenever you have a Uranus transit there is revolutionising there is a liberation in all forms of yourself expression and change disruptive change where you can never go back to the way things were. So your rawness is absolutely on my mind today. So in this episode, I'm going to be talking a little bit about our Uranus retrograde. Currently, as I'm recording this on August 29, Iran has just shifted gears, it's actually 2023 August 29 2023. Uranus just shifted gears at that 23 degrees of Taurus mark to head in reverse. And we've been feeling that pressure point all of us and especially if you have natal energies around 20 to 23 degrees of Taurus. You've been feeling that jolt of Uranus. So today I wanted to talk a little bit first about this Uranus retrograde and the next six months for those of us living in and 2023 and then we'll dive into all about the Uranus process. The information that I'll be sharing from you is a preview of my intensive called celestial cycles. And celestial cycles is a four week intensive training on how you can use the bigger planetary cycles and medicine in your change making work so you absolutely know what season and cycle you're in. So you're working with the flow instead of against it. Celestial cycles lives in my astrology library and star powered circle. So if you're interested in celestial cycles, it's there for you get on the wait list for Star powered circle, at least in 2023 Star powered circle will open up for the last and final time coming up at the end of September right around Equinox. So if this interests you head on over to starpowered.com/forward/slash/circle. Alright, so let's talk about this 2023 Uranus retrograde. I've been calling this we're just all these Iranian Retrogrades that we get once a year in Taurus as referred reformation of sustainable progress. Last year, when the notes changed into Taurus and Scorpio, I was talking about this kind of idea of repatriation. Because of course, Taurus is that energy of, of our earth of sustainability of the environment of the land, the fertile land that provides for us that protects us and gives us security as long as we are able to also protect the land. Now, with all of these climate changes, and all of these climate disasters happening. This is our wake up call our awakening call thanks to Chronos to say like, Hey, this is kind of our last chance people, what are we going to do to take care of mother earth? So on the 28th and recording this on the 29th? So yesterday on the 28th Torah, Uranus shifted gears at that 23 degree mark to go into reverse. I've been loving looking at these the planetary roles and when they're in reverse with that little our x as our planetary medicine, that we're here to recalibrate those roles. So if you're honest, his role is to awaken and change and revolutionize when it's in retrograde. It's about how are we recalibrating that change? Has the change been working for us? Has the change not been working for us? Is this change sustainable? Is it actually making reform in our earthly terean realms? Well, we get until January 27 2024. For Uranus to complete its retrograde cycle. And because you're honest is so far out there, that Uranus or Uranus retrograde, we will be feeling it specifically on a personal level on those days that Uranus stations so, you know, almost the entire month of August, and the few weeks of September, early September Iran is is going to be stuck on that 2322 degree mark, and then all the way back at the end of the year, beginning of 2024 when Uranus stops to go direct again. Now, if you also have any planets or angles, especially Sun Moon Rising, but or a stellium or if you have your rising your midheaven, your IC or your descendant if you have anything right around Taurus between 19 and 23 degrees, you have definitely been feeling this awakening, right? I love that you know your rawness is. And I'll be sharing this when I talk about the celestial cycles, but you're honest, is one of the big players in our midlife awakening, you know, getting rid of the language around midlife crises, when we're about between 38 and 44. And we get our Uranus opposition, our life changes for the better, we have so much power at our disposal. Now that's why you need that Uranus because your rawness whatever it touches it, it shocks it, it gives it this kind of like, whoa, what just happened, and it allows it to disintegrate and liberate there for causing that kind of up level. Sometimes if we're not like kind of shocked into kind of realization or awakening, we're going to just like go along in our zombie like, or just like our unconscious modes of operation where we're just repeating the same thing trapped in a cycle over and over and over again. So that's why we need these Uranian wakeups. So definitely check your chart, see if you have anything between 23 degrees and 19 degrees of Taurus, even across the way in Scorpio, even those Leo Aquarius those fixed modalities, if you have any planets or angles in these areas, you're definitely feeling like this feeling this. So generally when I talk about a planet that kind of stations at one point before it shifts gear, and especially a slow moving like you're on a planet like Iran is exactly like an acupuncturist. You know, like when you go to an acute if you've ever been to an acupuncturist, and like I've been, I haven't really feeling my energy very well, I've been feeling kind of sluggish, I have a little pain in my left hip. And then they find that little sweet spot where they just like poke this teeny, tiny little needle into one of these pressure points, you feel like this literal zap of electricity. And then all of a sudden this like web of electricity like flowing through your body. That's exactly what your honest is doing in the sky for all of us. And the stronger that zap is, if you have any natal planets between that 19 and 23 degrees of Taurus or any of those other fixed modalities. Now, I know that there's a ton of you because for whatever reason, I'm definitely called to work with people that have Taurus, Scorpio, Aquarius, and Leo that have those later degrees. Because I would say 50% of my clients have your artists hanging out on their midheaven hanging out on their sun hanging out on their rising sign hanging out on one of their angles. And oh my goodness, it's beautiful to watch all of my clients go through this massive of leveling. Now, because it's a little bit of a shock, right? This change shocks us out of kind of like, just like the unconscious cycle that we're in. It's I'm not gonna say that like a Uranus. Transit is very especially a retrograde is very comfortable. Just like when you're sitting on the acupuncturist chair and they get your sweet spot and you like zap out of things, right? But you know that after that zap, you're feeling amazing. You have energy, you can walk in alignment, again, everything is just like really flowing that electrical circuits, electrical circuitry, and that nervous system circuitry that Uranus does rule is now working in alignment. And that's what we all get to get have during these Uranian Retrogrades. And so I want you to start to notice, especially for the next couple of weeks, if you have Uranus sitting on one of your natal energies and even if you don't, notice what you need to revise and reawaken in terms of your or Uranian themes, this could be your physical resources, like your money, or the type of food or the type of shelter your type of environment. And also on a personal level what this feels like in your body, where do you need some awakening? And then of course, in society, in your communities, please this is our call to do more than ever as we are at critical mass with climate and environmental issues. We all need to wake up and do our parts, right? I know individually, it's good to get on my soapbox, soapbox for just a little bit individually, there's just like so much we can do in terms of saving water, and really being conscious of our buying power. Where are we choosing to spend our money in terms of like, are we buying food that is grown ethically and grown by farmers? Or are we still contributing to like big agriculture? Are we buying homes that have been built in a newly developed land? Where are they clear cut forests, please don't do that. Okay? Please don't do that. Know exactly where you're spending all of your money and putting it to where your environmental values lay. Okay, and if you're taking that extra step, notice where in your communities you can even give back to the land. So we all can do better at up leveling and awakening in our personal lives, in our business lives and in our communities with this Uranian retrograde. Alright my friends. So I want to leave you with these excerpts from my premium content, select celestial cycles, where we're going to be talking about everything Uranus be talking about Uranus as planetary processes, and a little bit about Uranian. Uranus is transit to your natal energies. As we move further out into the solar system. The next planet we reach is Uranus, and Uranus is primary role is to awaken Uranus is the CO ruler, the modern ruler of Aquarius, and it takes 84 years to orbit the Sun spending about seven years in each sign. Now the deity the mythology of Uranus is he is the father sky, the God of all heavens. And that's why when we think about what your honest rules over Uranus rules over things like space and technology, and just our ability to fly, both planes and technology. Now, Uranus was discovered in March 1781. And all up to then we can actually see all of the planets up to Saturn with the naked eye. And so humans have been tracking all of those planets up to Saturn from for who knows how long. But your honors was the first planet that we needed to discover using a telescope just out of reach. And this is where things get pretty interesting, at least to me. And so we have astronomers and astrologers, astronomers are the people that you know, look at the science and the physics and they want to understand how things work in the mechanics. And for the most part, astronomers do not believe in the symbolism, and the meaning that astrologers believe in. Now, back in Hellenistic times, and you know, prehistoric times in ancient times, astronomers and astrologers were one on this on the same. Let's start at something started happening right after Copernicus is discovery that the Sun was in the center of the universe, that things started to shift. Maybe this was religion coming into play, and, you know, not wanting people to put power into the deities of the stars, and instead putting power into, you know, a singular person, like a priest or a bishop as the voice to God, who knows when that real separation between science and facts versus the spirituality and the meaning and the symbolism that separated both astronomy and astrology. But the interesting thing is that when astronomers are the people who study the heavens, without adding the meanings of the planets, they are the people that add the names to these planetary bodies. Are these heavenly bodies, these celestial cosmic bodies, and I always find it super interesting and other astrologers have, have kind of created a hypotheses about why these astronomers who don't care anything about mythology or the meaning or anything like that are these kinds of archetypal mythical names to these different planets. In 1781, we had so many revolutions happening from the American Revolution to the Spanish revolution, the French Revolution, just all these different cultures and societies going through these huge upheavals and changes going away from monarchies and imperialist royalties into more democratic societies. Now, of course, you know, not everybody went through full circle with that, but there was a ton of different advances on the social front with revolutions. And after the discovery of Uranus, humans started taking to the sky with technology in 1783, the first parachute, also the first hot air balloon, and hydrogen balloons, there was so much technology that were moving people even faster around the world and above the world. Super, super fascinating. And so this idea of the Father sky, god of Heavens, as we awaken and revolutionize our society, as we tap into greater achievements in technology, especially with transportation, it's really interesting to see how this the symbolism of a planet and a naming of a planet by this mythology, there are astrologers that say that our human consciousness is ready for the arrival of this kind of archetypal energy. And so we're going to see this as we unveil and introduce these other outer planets, Neptune, Pluto and Chiron and how their archetypal energies and consciousness really came into our human history and sphere at the opening of their discovery and their naming. So back to Uranus, of course, you're honest, his process is to awaken to shock to take a quantum leaps forward and to revolutionize the inner heroines journey to bring awareness and acceptance and healing to being able to make change, to break free to feeling like a rebel without feeling like a misfit, to being a rebel with a cause instead of a Rebel Without a Cause, to really being open to differences and awakening, and appreciating shakeups and learning how to deal with kinds of these ideas of shock and turning them more into this idea of fascination and awe. And in our outer roles in our leadership, to bring Uranus into our lives, and our work through our highest expression of is really initiating different kinds of breakthroughs, not just in our inner lives, but in our outer lives, to continuously innovate and see things from a very different kind of perspective. to revolutionize, which sometimes to revolutionize is to bring back something that was ancient, but to use it in a new way to harness technology. Again, there's so many different types of technology do not get stuck on technology as just your devices and things like and the different software and hardware that you run. But technology, from herbal technology to spiritual technology, just all the different transmissions that are coming through that are high tech, of course, Uranus represents electricity, and our ability to take quantum leaps to inspire with awe and fascination. So we all need a little bit of you're honest and you have your honest somewhere in your chart to spark change. Let's now take a look at your rawness transits, where Uranus cycles are all about awakening. Now Uranus you already know to awaken to break through to revolutionize remembering that a revolution sometimes is coming back to an old way with a new perspective. It's about innovating. It's about upgrading and taking those quantum leaps. Now, Uranus transits are very very meaningful in our lives because it allows us to confront and revolutionize your need for freedom of self expression and change without looking back. Your rawness is always asking us what needs a breakthrough. What needs a shake up? What surprises do I desire and what freedom do I need from rigidity? And Uranus as it transits through a house or transits a natal planet is asking you what areas of your life do You need these breakthroughs with, with Uranus going through a house and what planetary processes need up levels and evolution. Now Uranus has one of the most important life cycles in our midlife which is called the Uranus opposition. And the Uranus opposition is a significant lifecycle that happens sometime between 38 and 44. And so because Uranus takes 84 years to go around the Zodiac, meaning you can have Uranus return at 84, we don't hear too much about, you know, octogenarians having huge success. Of course, there are many octogenarian octogenarians who have success, but it's not really a return that we've put much focus into, instead of the most important Uranus lifecycle is that Uranus opposite Uranus, where Uranus sits across its natal position on your natal chart between the ages of 38 and 44. If you're currently in the cycle, or have passed this cycle, you know what an upheaval it has been with the Uranus awakening cycle is so important, because this is a time where we are actually re energizing our bodies for the next half of our lives.

Because this is the significant mid life cycle. Now you could call it a midlife crisis, or you can reframe it and call it a midlife awakening. Because this is a time where you feel that you need to break free from all of the conformity from all of the boxes, everything that you've built around the area of your life that you just do not want to take with you. For most women, or sis females, we think about the Uranus opposition is really opening up our throat chakra and our voice and for men. The Uranus opposition is enabling an enabling men to really open up their heart chakra so that they can feel with more sensitivity. Now, you've all heard about those midlife crisis cycles. And oftentimes these are people of course, who are resisting something. And they're, you're honest, they're Iranian processes are really operating from a shadow level. So like classic things are like, you know, people like leave their leave their significant others and find a much younger partner or they buy race car all year like total stereotypical things. But really, that is not a mindful or a conscious way of really harnessing the power of a Uranus opposition. Because when we consciously choose that your honest opposition, we culminate everything that we have learned in our experiences, and we are here to birth something new to awaken and innovate something new. Some of you might have known that my integration from just branding and design and integrating astrology happened at exactly during my Uranus opposition. And I am so glad to have had the tools to be able to navigate that and know what that meant for me. For those of us going through this Uranus opposition or have passed it, you will know that after this your honest opposition, that innate power that sits within you sit so close to the surface there's no confusion as to what you're here to do, what your superpowers are and what you're here to radiate. It is such a beautiful transit. Now a Uranus opposite Iran is similar to that Saturn opposite Saturn is going to highlight the house that your natal Uranus is in the house where transiting Uranus sits opposite activating one of those those house axes again, there's a bunch of your honest opposition reflection questions in the worksheet that I borrowed from a previous course called Uranus, Chiron and midlife awakening. So if you're feeling if you're in that area of life right now, definitely check out those questions in the worksheet. Now remember, I looked at the astrological house axes, the opposition so that you can get your personalized themes and make a better sense of exactly what you're going through if you are going through this Uranus opposition. So let's take a look at transiting Uranus. Knowing that Uranus takes at four years to go through the natal chart. It spends about seven years in each of your houses. And when it transits a natal planet. It can also take about one to two years to do its full transformation and shakeup. So first Uranus through the houses. So first Uranus in the first house as it crosses your ascendant Christina share that she is going through this Uranus on the ascendant and just the radical changes to herself her leadership, her identity, her initiative, her breaking through the glass ceiling to up level you. So do not be afraid again of these Uranian kind of surprises. Remember to take them with a toll dose of woohoo instead of Whoa. And so you're honest as it moves through the first house allows you to radically change your self. As you're honest moves to the second house, you'll see radical changes to your finances, your worthiness, your values, breaking through the glass ceiling to elevate your worthiness, your values, and perhaps your bottom line. You're honest as it moves to the third house shows us radical changes to your mindset, your inner dialogue, your voice as well as your neighborhood routines are breaking through the glass ceiling to your ability to communicate your needs. As Iran is crosses over the icy at the bottom of your chart, it moves into that fourth house, where you're gonna see radical changes to your emotional safety, your innermost private life and family dynamics, breaking through the glass ceiling to intergenerational advancements and inner security. Next, Uranus moves into the fifth house where now we'll see radical changes to your ability to seek out passion, play pleasure and creativity, breaking through the glass ceiling to heal your ability to receive joy and attend to your inner child. While you're honest is in the sixth house, we're gonna see massive changes to your daily practices and your routines so that you can break through the glass ceiling of how to break free from obligations from higher ups so that you can attend to your wellness and your wholeness. As your honest now moves it's going to cross over up into the seventh house by crossing over the descendant. Again, Uranus having done all of its inner work on the inner part of your lives, now showing up into the outer part of your lives. As Uranus transits your seventh house, you can expect radical changes to your relationships and understanding of power in relationships, partnerships and collaborations so that you can break through the glass ceiling of how you collaborate and relate to others. Expect lots of shakeups in your relationships. Uranus in the eighth house well time for radical changes in your ability to transform and being free of old paradigms, surprises and shared resources and joint money to breaking through the glass ceiling to your relationship to life and death, as well as your trust with others. Your honest ninth house radical changes to believe your beliefs purpose and vision, even your morality, breaking through the glass ceiling to what you can truly envision and open your mind to, as you're honest, leaves the ninth house and if you if you get a midheaven and crossing Uranus will be entering your 10th house where you can expect radical changes to your public and professional life to achieve expertise and inner authority, breaking through the glass ceiling to how you will leave your mark on this world. Then Uranus moves into the 11th house where we now see radical changes and revolution for your hopes, your of your future, your social impact on your soul communities, breaking through the glass ceiling to how you will contribute to society and achieve your dreams. When I mentioned my personal Uranus opposition, your honest was crossing here in my 11th house. And I know that what I'm here to do at this time, what opened up for me was to create a revolution of astrology. And lastly, as your honest travels through your 12th house, now you have radical changes to your innermost Hidden Self and past actions, breaking through the glass ceiling to allow for more ease flow and bliss in this lifetime, as well as seeing the true motivations in others. Now because your honest travels so slowly, some of us if we don't make it to 84 years old, we're not going to have your honest moving through all of these houses. Also because your rawness takes so long. Oftentimes, it's not going to come back a second time. So there might be times in your life where you don't actually have Uranus transiting one of those chart places in your chart, but always knowing that by opposition, Uranus will still be doing its work in that in the opposite house, even if you're honest, never makes it there. All right, let's take a look at Uranus transiting one of your natal planets. Remembering that you're honest takes about one to two years to transit one of your natal planets and not all of us will get conjunctions to a planet. Knowing that conjunctions to our primary Sun Moon rising with Uranus are going to have the biggest shakeups conjunctions and as well as opposition And remember that the aspect between Uranus and your other planet that is transiting will let you know the type of energetic transformation that is happening. Feel free to change these keywords and the formulas that I'm going to share with you so that they speak to you most and try to get to an understanding of Now what does this mean to you? How is it showing up in your life and work? So if you get to have a Uranus and sun aspect, this is breakthrough plus creativity, which equals ingenuity. I love that. Now, Uranus and the moon break through plus security equals emotional reform. Uranus and Mercury breakthrough of expression equals insight. Your honest and Venus breakthrough and connection equals new relationships. Uranus and Mars breakthrough an activation equals volition. Uranus and Jupiter breakthrough and expansion equals progress. Uranus and Saturn breakthrough and focus equals dismantling Uranus and Neptune breakthrough and inspiration I call this unity vision. And Uranus and Pluto breakthrough and power is revolution. Uranus and Uranus if you get to 84 and get to have a Uranus opposition, now these outer planets sorry going back to the outer planets, we're not going to always have some of these aspects, okay, it's just it's just not going to happen. If you want to know why asked me later. That's gonna take a whole nother hour to answer. But you're honest and you're honest, if you make it to 84 break through and break through freedom to be whoever the fuck you want to be who excuse my language. All right, so I hope you enjoyed exploring how it might feel when your rawness aspects, one of your natal planets because ultimately, we're going to get to have at least one or two of these transits in our lives. And it will be so amazing to understand what is being awakened and knowing that we're in that process. So we're not just kind of like caught off guard. Right. So I hope you enjoyed exploring what Uranus and one of your natal energies means for you. And an exploring whether it's happened recently, or if it's happening soon. Or maybe you're currently going through this up leveling. Hey luminary. I hope you've enjoyed this deep dive into the planetary process and medicine of Uranus. I hope it's shown you all the ways you get to awaken, liberate and revolutionize in your life, and your work and in society.
